ATHLETICS WIN DECIDING GAME BY SCORE OF 3 TO

Selphia Athletics won the baseball championship of the world for 1913 at the Polo Grounds this afternoon by defeating the New York Giants 3 to 1 in the fifth and deciding game of the

with the score of games standing three to one in their favor, the American Leaguers went in to clinch the series, and before the masterly playing of the Mackmen the National Languers had absolutely no chance. Connie Mack, anxious to finish the struggle, sent Eddie Plank, his veteran southpaw, to the mound, and John McGraw, his back to the wall, called on Christy Mathewson to check the victorious rush of the Athletics.

Both old masters of curve and break responded nobly, but the Giants, un-able to help Mathewson by even mediocre batting, fell victims to the vici-ous hitting, fast fielding combination which has again raised the standard of the American League over that of the National organization. The vic-tory was a personal triumph for Plank, but the downfall of the Giants carried no odium for Mathewson, who, besides pitching an excellent game with but two days of rest since his victory of Wednesday, made one of the two hits scored against his rival

Can't Overcome Lend. Mathewsen did not respond as promptly to the demands made upon him as did Plank, and lacking that wonderful offensive and defensive support which the Athletics accorded to their twirler, faltered just enough in the opening innings of the game to give the Mackmen a lead that the Glants were powerless to overcome. The top were powerless to overcome. The top half of the Philadelphia club batting order hit heavily when hits meant runs. St. Michael, Alaska, October 11.—The Russian government steamers Talmyr and Waygatch, under command of Captain Willisky, which have been engaged in Arctic explorations north of Siberia for three years, arrived here to-day for coal. Captain Willisky reports the discovery of a body of land as large as Greenland, extending beyond latitude $1 north and longitude 102 east.

Admiral Peary and other Arctic explorers have believed that a large body of land, almost a continent, existed in the polar regions. The Canadian government had so much faith in the theories of Peary, Stefansson and other explorers that last summer it sent out Vilialmir Stefansson with the best-equipped polar expedition that ever embarked for the north.

Three of Stefansson's boats are frozen in the ice pack, near Point Barrow, Alaska. Stefansson himself, with the whaler Karluk, got away safely from Point Barrow, and steered for the north, seeking the unknown continent, which the Russian expedition which arrived at St. Michael reported having discovered.

Question in Episcopal Convention Will Probably Go Over.

New York, October 11.—All likelihood of changing the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church to the American Catholic Church at the present general convention of the church now in session at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, was nullified to-day, when the Rev. William T. Manning, D. D., rector of Trinity Church, Boston, and president of the House of Deputies, introduced a resolution to the effect that po-change should be made in the Prayer-Book without a two-thirds' vote of the House of Deputies. At present a majority vote is all that is required to pass any amendment to any church canon.

SHOOTS INTO CROWD

The Athletics gathered in two more runs in the third. Murphy again opened the inning with a single through short. Oldring followed with a smash at Doyle, who fumbled, and the batter was safe, while Murphy scampered to second. Collins sacrificed the runners along a base each. Baker dribbled a Cincinnati base hit at Merkle, who tried for the batter and then for Murphy at the plate, missing both as a consequence. McInnis then scored Oldring from third with a sacrifice fly to Burns, and the Athletics' run-making was at an end.

ATTENDANCE CUT BY FIVE-DAY RAIN

With Bright Skies Gate Receipts Would Have Exceeded Total of Any Big Year Heretofore. Midway People Leave With Sorrowful

While no attendance figures were ple hauled from the grounds show a decrease of 17 per cent, as compared with last year. Officials of the fair said that the attendance of out-of-town visitors exceeded that of any former fair, and that the decrease was solely due to the small number of Richmond people venturing out in the rain and mud of Wednesday and Thursday.

The total attendance is regarded as remarkable in view of the fact that there were five days of cloudy weather The capital was alive with rumers this morning, one of them being to the effect that three deputies arrested last night who were most active in precipitating the clash with General Huerta, had disappeared. This report was not given much credence. President Huerta before the arrests were made had given his word that none of the deputies would be harmed.

and rain. Heavy fame of the arising and almost continuous rains on Thursday seriously cut down the attendance on the big days. The matic turnstiles at the gates, and the actual number of people entering the grounds each day will not be known until the tickets have been counted and reported to the board of directors.

About Breaks Even.

General Manager Warwick said last night that while a financial statement had not been compiled, the Fair Association was greatly gratified at the attendance in the face of such discouraging weather conditions. When all accounts have been balanced the association will about break even, though there will be little or nothing left for improvements which are already contemplated.

The Virginia Railway and Power Company hauled away from the Fair Grounds during the week 32,336 people, without a single accident to a passenger on any of the lines. Last year the company hauled from the company hauled from the Fair Grounds 112,421, indicating a loss for this year of 19,485, or 17 per cent. Of course the figures of the street car company do not indicate the total attendance, as many walk back from the grounds or travel in motor cars the grounds or travel in motor cars or other vehicles. It would be con-servative to estimate, however, that from 75 to 80 per cent of the visitors left the grounds by street cars.

Eager for Annexation.

Manager Warwick said last night that before another fair he greatly hoped the city would adopt the now pending annexation ordinance, which will have the effect of bringing the fair records and its investigates. grounds and its immediate surround-ings into the city limits. At present he explained the city police lend their aid, but in every arrest the prisone has to be turned over to Henrico Coun officers for trial before Henrico County magistrates. In cases of minor disorders, such as shoving in the crowds, young men placed under arrest were fined $2.50, while the fees and costs amounted to from $5 to $8. Mr. Warwick said that he was grateful to Deputy Sheriff Webb Sydnor and other Henrico officers, who had aided in pre-serving order, but that all were agreed that the situation would be much pler when the whole matter could be turned over to the city police.

Another great benefit from prompt annexation, Mr. Warwick sald, we be that the car line could then brought directly into the grounds. Though the present arrangement may be better than the old dangerous foot bridge, it is far from desirable to un load passengers several hundred yards

BILLS TO ENFORCE LAWARECAUSE

Governor Hooper Says Solons Have Opportunity to Restore Majesty of the Law or Face the Rising Tide of Public Indignation-May Act Quickly.

Nashville, Tenn., October 11 .-- When announced by the Virginia State Fair Association, which closed its annual exhibition last night after a week of atmospheric continuous bad weather, records kept by the Virginia Railway and be the third time this year that the members of that body have gathered in the legislative halls of the Capitol. Incidentally, it will be the first time in thirty years that two special sesbeen held within a twelvemonth.

Interest in the deliberations of the fight is expected on the so-called 'law enforcement bills," intended to make more effective the present prohibition laws. Through the efforts of "regular" Democrats, a vote upon these measures at the special session, which closed September 27, was prevented.

May Be Short.

In addition to considering the "law enforcement bill," the special session will be called upon to consider the proposed amendment to the refunding act, and a bill making an appropriation covering the expenses of the session. It has been estimated that from three days to a week will be required to dis-pose of the business which Governor Hooper has called upon the Legisla-ture to transact. It is also calculated that the minimum cost of the special session will be $10,000, raising the total legislative expense of the year to approximately $150,000.

to approximately $150,000.

Establish Record for Longevity.

The regular session of the Tennessee Legislature opened January 6 last. After remaining in session until February 21, a recess was taken to March 17. Desiring to break a quorum on April 1, House fusionists went to Middlesboro, Ky., and stayed away until the expiration of the seventy-five days, for which legislators draw pay.

In the meantime, members of the "regular" Democratic faction kept the session alive until August 23, thus establishing a longevity record for Tennessee's legislative body.

Change Election Laws.

Change Election Laws.

Efforts of the "regular" Democrats to effect certain changes in the State election laws precipitated the extended fight in the regular session. Because of these efforts, the fusionists attempted to break the quorum by leaving the State. It was at that time that a number of "additional sergeat-at-arms were appointed, the doors of the legislative halls closed and an attempt made to re-enact the elec-tion law amendments. Under these conditions the amendments were again voted on, passing by a vote of 53 to 18.

Feeling Ran High. Feeling ran high at the first spe-cial session, which was called by Governor Hooper chiefly in order to se-cure passage of the "law enforcement Charges were made by both factions that "armed guards" were troduced into the halls of the capitol, and that efforts were made at intimi-dation. While none of these charges was substantiated, they had the effect of bringing about a mutual agreement whereby all but members of the Legislature were excluded from the capitol. No similar trouble at the coming special session is anticipated.

Governor Hooper, discussing the coming session to-night said: "A maof the Legislature recently was prevented by a filibuster from pass-ing the 'law enforcement bills' which will enable the people to abate the saloons as a nulsance. When it appeared that friends of law enforcement resented efforts of certain city officials of this State to intimidate by sending armed guards to the capinewspaper accounts sent broadcast, to the effect that ad- velt vocates of law enforcement were trying, by 'gun play' to force the passage of the bills."

Restore Law or Face Indignation. The Governor said that the proaching special session would have an opportunity "to restore the majesty of the law in the cities of Tennessee or face the rising tide of public, indignation." Tennessee's liquor laws frequently have been the political storm centre since 1877, when the historic "four-mile law," of any schoolhouse except in incorporated towns licensing such sale was enacted.

Liverpool, Eng., October 11 .- One hundred and thirty-six persons lost turno, of the Uranium Line, was destroyed at sea, on Friday, after having been on fire for twenty-four hours.

Ten steamships surrounded the Volturno for sixteen hours while the fire raged at its height, but none of the rescue fleet was able to lend assistance, owing to the terrific storm.

The Volturno sailed from Rotterdam for New York, via Halifax, on October 2. She carried twenty-four cabin passengers, 540 steerage and a crew of ninety-three. Of the 657 known to have been on board, 521 have been re-ported saved by the ten vessels.

Lifebonts Are Crushed.

The greatest loss of life occurred when four of the Volturno's six lifeboats were dashed to pieces against the side of the vessel a moment after they were launched. Other lifeboats launched from the rescue fleet were also crushed by the waves.

Early Friday morning a terrific explosion in the Volturno's boiler room almost rent the vessel in half. When this occurred, the passengers on the striken ship heliaved they were this occurred, the passengers on the stricken ship believed they were doomed, while the captains of the vessels could see little chance of saving those on the burning ship.
